

CEO of Kelly Pipe Retires

After more than 40 years in the Plumbing and Piping Industry and the last 6 years as President and CEO of Kelly Pipe Co, Leonard (Len) Gross is retiring as of March 31, 2016. Len has decided to pursue other adventures that hold his interest, such as spending time with his grandchildren, mountain climbing, zip lining, just to name a few.

Len has been a great asset to Kelly and during his tenure has been responsible for the growth of the company from 9 locations to the current 15 locations. Kelly employs over 250 employees and has its headquarters in Santa Fe Springs, CA, with branch offices and yards across the United States, Canada, UK and Colombia.

Kelly is pleased to announce the appointment of Steve Livingston to President and CEO, effective January 1, 2016. Steve joined Kelly in 2003 as Denver Branch Manager and was promoted to the position of Executive Vice President of Central Region in 2010. He is well known in the industry and brings with him to his new position 50 years in the Industrial Piping Industry. Steve began his career in the industry in 1966 and since joining the Kelly Pipe Family his expertise and accomplishments have been greatly recognized and appreciated.

Kevin Roberts has been appointed to replace Steve Livingston as Vice President of Central Region. Kevin joined Kelly in a Sales position in 2006 and was quickly promoted to Houston Branch Manager in 2008. He has been instrumental in helping that branch grow from 1 sales office and yard to its current presence of a much larger sales office and stocking yards. Kevin can now extend his accomplishments to the entire Central Region for Kelly Pipe.

Kelly Pipe, organized in 1898 has grown to become one of the top 10 leaders in the Industrial Piping Industry. After many years of changes and growth, in 2014 Kelly was purchased by JFE Shoji who are leaders worldwide in the distribution and processing of steel products. Together JFE and Kelly Pipe look forward to continued growth and great accomplishments in the years ahead.
